

Misguided Love: Christians and the Rupture of LGBTQI2+ People

Monday, February 10, 2020, at 7 pm
Knox College (Room 4), 59 St. George Street, Toronto

RSVP by February 5 to knox.college@utoronto.ca.

Can't attend in person? Watch the event via livestream at bit.ly/2020fenshamlaunch.

Misguided Love: Christians and the Rupture of LGBTQI2+ People, by Charles Fensham, is published by the Journal of Pastoral Care and Counselling and produced by Harvard University Bookstore. Order your copy at shop.harvard.com/misguided-love.

Find an introductory video at bit.ly/IntroMisguidedLove.

"A timely, historically robust, strongly worded, and entirely convincing account of the subject." —Dr. Michael Coren (broadcaster, columnist, author)

"I think this book is an important overall contribution, and I cannot think of any precisely like it." —Prof. Philip Hesel (Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary)

"I am convinced that there is a need for this book and that it can make a huge difference for individuals, and for the global struggle towards the inclusion of LGBT individuals..." —Rev. Dr. Brent Hawkes (Pastor Emeritus, Metropolitan Community Church)

The Rev. Dr. Charles Fensham is Professor of Systematic Theology at Knox College. He is interested in the study of the church (ecclesiology) and its intersection with mission studies and ecology, with a focus on public missiology.