Due date: October 17

Late policy: 4% off per week late (2% by end of Friday; 2% by end of Monday)
No assignment will be graded after November 7

Research essay: Students are required to do a research essay on a topic in Canadian Presbyterian history. Given the situation re: COVID-19 including restrictions on access to libraries and archives, students are encouraged to do essays where the resources are available. One area of study - theology - has been chosen and resources provided which will allow students to pursue a variety of topics within that general area.

Students need to begin by choosing a topic and doing some initial research.
The project will be graded in two parts:

1. Essay proposal : Students will hand in a brief paper outlining – a) the topic they’ve chosen; b) the literature which exists on the topic, with a comment on the themes arguments etc. in that literature and the state of the research into the topic; c) a suggestion of the research strategy and primary sources they intend to use; d) an initial suggestion of the argument they anticipate making and e) an initial bibliography. (approx. 4- 5 pages)
Note: the final research paper should use approx. 5 books and 5 articles.
(submitted via Quercus)

Due: Nov 7

The proposal will be graded based upon its accurate assessment of the literature, the existence of an appropriate research strategy, the existence of an initial argument, strength of the bibliography, and writing style. (10%)

Late policy: 4% off per week late (2% by end of Friday; 2% by end of Monday)
No assignment will be graded after November 28.

2. Research essay – final paper: The paper should be between 15 and 20 pages (3750 and 5000 words) and must include at least one appropriate primary source used in the research. Web sources should not usually be used (except where they are making legitimate published sources available, as in the case of e-journals and Canadiana Online). The essay should state a clear thesis in the first or second paragraph, and should be structured in expository style. (submitted via Quercus)

Due: December 14 - 4:00 pm

The research essay will be graded based upon effective research into both the secondary sources and the chosen primary source(s); an effective and convincing argument; and, writing style. (50%)

Late policy: 2% per day late.

Details on topics in theology will be provided in the class.

Completion of Course work: All course work (including any late work) must be completed by the end of term, the last day of exams. Only in the case of illness (with a note from a doctor), bereavement or other unusual circumstances will an extension be considered and this must be authorized by the Basic Degree Committee and the Faculty.

Course grades. Consistent with the policy of the University of Toronto, course grades submitted by an instructor are reviewed by a committee of the instructor's college before being posted to ACORN. Grades are not official until they are posted to ACORN. Course grades may be adjusted where they do not comply with University Assessment and Grading Practices Policy found at <https://governingcouncil.utoronto.ca/secretariat/policies/grading-practices-policy-university-assessment-and-january-1-2020> policies found in the TST conjoint program handbooks, or college grading policy.

Policies

Accessibility. Students with a disability or health consideration are entitled to accommodation. Students must register at the University of Toronto's Accessibility Services offices; information is available at <http://www.accessibility.utoronto.ca/>. The sooner a student seeks accommodation, the quicker we can assist.

Plagiarism. Students submitting written material in courses are expected to provide full documentation for sources of both words and ideas in footnotes or endnotes. Direct quotations should be placed within quotation marks. (If small changes are made in the quotation, they should be indicated by appropriate punctuation such as brackets and ellipses, but the quotation still counts as a direct quotation.) Failure to document borrowed material constitutes plagiarism, which is a serious breach of academic, professional, and Christian ethics. An instructor who discovers evidence of student plagiarism is not permitted to deal with the situation individually but is required to report it to his or her head of college or delegate according to the TST Basic Degree Handbook (linked from <http://www.tst.edu/content/handbooks>) and the University of Toronto Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters <http://www.governingcouncil.utoronto.ca/AssetFactory.aspx?did=4871>. A student who plagiarizes in this course. Students will be assumed to have read the document "Avoidance of plagiarism in theological writing" published by the Graham Library of Trinity and Wycliffe College. <https://tinyurl.com/ydbcge4q>

Other academic offences. TST students come under the jurisdiction of the University of Toronto Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters <http://www.governingcouncil.utoronto.ca/policies/behaveac.htm>).

Back-up copies. Please make back-up copies of essays before handing them in.

Obligation to check email. At times, the course instructor may decide to send out important course information by email. To that end, all students are required to have a valid utoronto email address. Students must have set up a utoronto email address which is entered in the ROSI system. Information is available at www.utorid.utoronto.ca. The course instructor will not be able to help you with this. 416-978-HELP and the Help Desk at the Information Commons can answer questions you may have about your UTORid and password. Students should check utoronto email regularly for messages about the course. Forwarding your utoronto.ca email to a Hotmail, Gmail, Yahoo or other type of email account is not advisable. In some cases, messages from utoronto.ca addresses sent to Hotmail, Gmail or Yahoo accounts are filtered as junk mail, which means that emails from your course instructor may end up in your spam or junk mail folder.

Email communication with the course instructor. The instructor aims to respond to email communications from students in a timely manner. All email communications from students should be sent from a utoronto email address. Email communications from other email addresses are not secure, and also the instructor cannot readily identify them as being legitimate emails from students. The instructor is not obliged to respond to email from non-utoronto addresses. The instructor (and TA) will seek to respond to any email in a timely fashion during the work week (Monday through Friday). Emails sent on the weekend will be replied to during the next workweek.

Style Guidelines for Papers: The papers in this class need to be written using effective English. Any sources used apart from the reading itself need to be referenced using the humanities format. The Chicago Manual of Style is available online <http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org.myaccess.library.utoronto.ca/16/contents.html>

Cell Phones: Cell phones can be disruptive to the classroom experience. Students, therefore, should turn off or set their phones to silent and refrain from using them while in class. (This includes texting.) Cell phone use is permitted only for medical professionals who are on call and for students who need to be in constant contact with ill family members or minors. Students who meet either of these requirements should inform the professor prior to class.

Use of Technology. Laptops and other computing devices may be used in the classroom for note taking purposes only. The use of the internet is not permitted while class is in session unless it is part of a specific class activity. Students wishing to text message, search for images, fact check etc. should do so during the break or outside of class. Much of the learning that goes on in the classroom is founded upon mutual disclosure that takes place between the instructor and the student and between students. Parties outside of that learning community have not committed themselves to this relationship of trust. For this and other reasons, permission to record lectures in audio format is granted for use by registered students only. Video recording is not permitted without the written permission of the instructor. Recordings and notes of class lectures may not be electronically reproduced, posted or distributed without the written permission of the instructor.
